Canada Post Corporation Prairie Projects

Rajani Blaser Mannix Architecture is currently under contract to Canada Post to perform construction and renovation projects for Canada Post Corporation across all three Prairie Provinces. The diversity of renovation, addition and new construction projects completed for Canada Post have provided our firm with extensive experience with a wide variety of challenges. We have successfully met those challenges on more than 75 separate projects, demonstrating our innovative technical excellence and ability to meet schedule and budget on every single project. Throughout our work for CPC, our firm has addressed a wide variety of complications with sound, practical solutions that work to 'get the job done' while meeting and exceeding the high standards and expectations of Canada Post Corporation. We have addressed environmental issues, historical concerns, accessibility requirements, hazardous material abatement, and various other concerns, sometimes on the same project.
